

Editorial Submission Guidelines

IHS welcomes submissions of articles for consideration in The Hearing Professional (THP). Your submission must be free of commercialism and be timely and relevant to the hearing health industry or general business management. THP magazine is the official publication of the International Hearing Society. This quarterly publication includes industry news, membership highlights and best practices, hearing healthcare legislation, and other information and tools for hearing healthcare professionals.

Submitting an article for Continuing Education Credit

IHS offers readers of THP the chance to earn continuing education credit by reading selected articles and completing the quiz at the end. Educational articles may cover a variety of subjects including audiometric assessment, instrument fitting, patient counseling, rehabilitation, practice management, ethics, and best practices. If you believe your article is suitable for continuing education credit, include a 10-question, multiple choice quiz to accompany your submission. If IHS determines the article does not meet the guidelines for credit, the article will still be considered for publication without the quiz and no continuing education credit will be given. Continuing education articles typically run in length from 2,500 – 5,000 words.
